Trunks and storage chests were the most ubiquitous form of household storage throughout the Ming and Qing dynasties. Used to store clothes, linens, kitchen utensils, and other miscellaneous items, trunks were found in every room in the home and were often stacked on top of one another.

This early 20th century trunk is crafted of poplar wood and finished with layers of dark brown lacquer. The front is painted with a vase filled with peonies, surrounded by butterflies, persimmons, and Buddha's hand citrons. Continued...
