This whimsical hanging pendant combines bold geometric metalwork with the soft refinement of French Art Deco art glass. The pendant fixture has a conical, tapered form comprised of four frosted glass shades designed to resemble delicate flower petals. Each glass shade is molded with a botanical design reminiscent of peacock feathers and set into a chromed steel frame that meets at the center with a point. The pendant hangs from four slender chain links secured to a hammered metal canopy decorated with large spiral elements.

From the collection of Frances and Gary Comer.
