GRAND MING IRON BELL WITH DRAGON HANDLE

$24,780

c. 1600 • Northern China, China • Cast Iron • Collection #R238

H: 29.25" Dia: 24.0"

This monumental Ming-dynasty bell once pealed in a Chinese village, sounding out in celebration or giving notice of important events. Expertly forged, the cast-iron bell is detailed with characters in intricate relief, and its exaggerated scallop rim is traced with oversized rivets. Covered in scales and ending in expressive faces, the bell's handle is cast in the form of a two-headed hong dragon, thought to be the embodiment of a rainbow and thus visible only after rainfall.
