INTERLOCKING DRUM STOOL

$3,980

c. 1900 • Shanxi, China • Cedar • Collection #BJGG080B

H: 19.5" Dia: 11.0"

Carved from a single block of cedar (nanmu), this unusual stool is a variation on the traditional drum form popular in China since the Song dynasty (AD 960-1279). Minimally decorated, the stool gives the illusion of two smaller interlocking drums. Deep vertical grooves add to its rustic finish, a beautiful weathered texture that only time can achieve.
