More portable than chairs, stools were a versatile seating option for Qing-dynasty scholars, nobles, and peasants alike. The balanced proportions of this pair of tapered stools from China's Hebei province shows us how masterfully 19th-century carpenters married form and function. The darkened surface of each stool has gained fantastic texture, beautifully weathered from over a century of use. With clean lines and deliberate workmanship, this pair of elmwood stools is an effortless addition to any space.
