Dated to the late 19th century, this silver charm ring was crafted by the Miao peoples of the Guizhou province and was believed to protect the wearer from bad luck and malevolent spirits. The ring band is etched with abstract patterns and strung with three short chains, each ending with a petite repoussé bell charm. Each of the charms is shaped in the form of a ripe offering fruit and holds a small bead that jingles as you walk.

Ring band is adjustable. All jewelry sales are final. No refunds or exchanges.
